HAVE YOU VOTED FOR YOUR FAVORITE?

Do it Today. Many People in Brainerd and the Northland are not Subscribers to the Dispatch that ought to be. Subscribe and Vote for Your Favorite Candidate.

What have you done? In the Dispatch's Mammoth Contest there are some fifty ladies of the Northland running for prizes. Have you voted for one of them yet and subscribed to the greatest Home Daily of Northern Minnesota?

The time is flying and the contest is rapidly drawing to a close. There are just twenty-one days more left, and the prizes the Dispatch has to award the ladies of the Northland with will change ownership.

With this change of ownership will you be a gainer? It is not a question as yet as to how you will win a prize, but which would you like to win? There are thousands of votes to gather. They are as thick as cowslips in the marshes during the month of May. So get busy. Gather them in and with them win the special dividend of $25 Savings Account and pile up your count for the Yearly Prize and your votes for the Mammoth, Capital, Grand and District Prizes.

Now is the time to don the war paint and hit the trail and round up the new subscribers. That's the way the western girl would say it and hits the nail on the head. You all want the $25 bank account—why we are offering it to you.

Some of the candidates have blood in their eye, all right, judging from the way they are quietly dropping in to the office and polling their ballots. Are you among the leaders? If not, now is the time for you to get there. Don't wait until the eleventh hour and then be disappointed because some other contestant has gotten the subscription ahead of you. "The early bird catches the worm," is an old saying and it pays to remember it in this instance.

You who seek prizes in this contest must hustle until the last day. No more time can be lost. If you did not get a special vote certificate last week "forget it." Go after the subscriptions that you have missed hitherto and pile up your votes. They are still to be had so don't lose heart. Don't cry over spilt milk—there are

MAKE APPEALS TO THE PEOPLE

Railroads and Manufacturers State Their Cases.

RAISE IN RATES NECESSARY

Slayson Thompson Declares That Railroads Are in a Deplorable Condition and That Many of the Companies Face Bankruptcy — Manufacturers Ask the People to Support the Government.

Chicago, June 4.—Simultaneous appeals to the people were made here by the Western railroads and by the Illinois Manufacturers' association. The railroads submitted their brief to "the man in the street and the farmer," hinting hard times if the railroads are not permitted to increase their freight rates.

The manufacturers tell the people not to be deceived, as there is no danger of panic, and laud President Taft for his action in obtaining the injunction halting the proposed increase in rates.

On behalf of the railroads, Slayson Thompson, head of the railroad publicity bureau, put forward "four reasons why railroad rates must be raised."

According to Mr. Thompson, the railroads in the past two years are $220,000,000 behind on maintenance, they paid $130,000,000 more annually for labor, they paid $100,000,000 more annually for interest, they lost $25,000,000 annually on passenger traffic, with the total result that they are "$730,000,000 to the bad in two years."

"Railway rates must be advanced, because many companies face bankruptcy if they are not," Mr. Thompson said. "This is a result which the injunction granted at Hannibal, Mo., on a side issue, irrespective of the justice of the advance on ex-parte representation, without notice and without proper weighing of the consequences, may expedite, but is powerless to enjoin."

May Be Stated Briefly.

"Why this is so may be stated briefly in terms that the man in the street, in the workshop and on the farm can understand and appreciate. In the end it is this man in the street who must

100 CENTS A DOLLAR

One Hundred Cents make a dollar. This seems like a foolish assertion, doesn't it. You will probably say when you read it, "Why, every darn fool knows that!" That's just it. Some of the "darn fools" know it and the "wise ones" don't. John Jones goes around with a suit of old clothes and doesn't buy every late novelty that come out. Somebody asks you "Who's that queer old fellow?" and you reply: "Why, that darn old fool is John Jones. He don't know enough to pound sand." But when John Jones builds a $10,000 house and is elected one of the directors of the town's leading banks, you commence to think that John Jones knows something after all. Even though you didn't think so at first because he didn't outshine everyone else in town with fine clothes and witty remarks and the passing around of good cigars, but there is one thing he outshone them all in—that was he knew how to save. He knew a hundred cents made a dollar and he knew if he saved some of those pennies in the Savings Account, where he left them to accumulate, with semi annual compounded interest. That's how he got there and that's what will get anybody there. Just remember the old saying, "Poverty is no disgrace, but its awfully inconvenient." So start today and save your pennies. Open up a Savings account and you'll never live long enough to regret it.

bear the brunt of any disaster that befalls the American railway system." Mr. Thompson quotes railroad statistics as far back as 1879 to prove the contention that the railroads face ruin unless rates are raised. These statistics will be printed in pamphlet form and distributed so that "the man in the street" can figure out the problem.

The resolutions adopted by the Illinois Manufacturers' association charge the officials of certain railroads with being in a concerted movement to make the people believe that the shippers and consumers are making unfair demands and that another financial crisis is impending. The manufacturers call upon the people to hold up the hands of the government, and demand that the "whole question of the advance or the reduction of freight rates should at this time, and at all future times, be presented to the Interstate Commerce commission for final adjudication."

The manufacturers extend their thanks to President Taft and Attorney General W. B. Sherman for their prompt action in asking the temporary injunction.

ROOSEVELT ANSWERS CRITIC

Declines to Change Word He Used in London Address.

London, June 4.—The Times publishes a letter from Mr. Roosevelt, written in reply to a correspondent who requested him to substitute the word "sentiment" for "sentimentality" which he used in his address at the Guildhall last Tuesday when the freedom of the city was conferred upon him.

Mr. Roosevelt, in his speech, was analyzing British rule in Egypt. Britain, he said, had given Egypt the best government the country had had in 2,000 years, but in certain vital points it had erred.

"Those who have to do with uncivilized peoples, especially fanatical peoples," he said, "must remember that in such a situation as that which faces you in Egypt weakness, timidity and sentimentality may cause infinitely more harm than violence and injustice. Sentimentality is the most broken reed on which righteousness can lean."

To the objector to the use of the word "sentimentality" Mr. Roosevelt writes:

"Dear Sir—I regard sentiment as the exact antithesis of sentimentality, and to substitute sentiment for sentimentality in my speech would directly invert my meaning. I abhor sentimentality, and, on the other hand, think no man is worth his salt who is not profoundly influenced by sentiment, and who does not share his life in accordance with a high ideal."

VICTOR MURDOCK.

Kansas Congressman Takes a Rap at Speaker Cannon.

VICTOR MURDOCK SCORES CANNON

Kansas Congressman Roasts the Speaker of the House.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 4.—Representative Murdock of Kansas retorted to Speaker Cannon's assertion that shooting was too good for the insurgent Republicans and that they ought to be hanged as traitors to their party with a counter charge that the speaker had for years been playing in the dark with Tammany Hall.

Representative Murdock, who is in the forefront of progressiveness, was speaking at a mass meeting held within the shadow of Senator Kean's house to boom the senator's rival, Representative Fowler, for the senator's place when his term expires.

In discussing the speaker's recent speech at a banquet in New York, Representative Murdock said in part: "Some of the speaker's friends have tried to excuse his utterances on the ground that they were only post-prandial oratory. I differ from them. They were the deliberate utterances of a man whose mind was filled with hate for those who refused to bend their knees to him."

"For twenty-five years Speaker Cannon has covered his delinquencies by cunning. He has played in the dark with Tammany. Every heart-throb of his is in response to the impulses of an aristocrat. He has blocked the way to light and liberty and he is the anomaly in the history of this democracy."

Mr. Murdock urged the people of New Jersey not to be satisfied until they had obtained the election of United States senators by the people. Mr. Fowler's candidacy is in accord with resolutions adopted at the meeting.

CITY WANTS A WORLD'S FAIR

Grant of Half a Million to Aid Project Authorized by Voters.

Winnipeg, June 4.—The electors of Winnipeg emphatically expressed their desire to have a world's fair held here in 1914 and their willingness to assist in bearing the cost through taxes by passing the civic bylaw authorizing a grant of $500,000. The bylaw was obtained by a tremendous majority, only 540 out of 3,016 voting against it. On the other hand, the ratepayers declared strongly against the city assisting the Winnipeg general hospital to the extent of $400,000.

REPUBLICANS VOTE FOR BILL

Railroad Measure Passed by the Senate.

LONG CONTEST FINALLY ENDS

All of the Progressives and Regulars and Some of the Democrats Support the Measure, Which Now Goes to Conference, the House Having Already Acted on a Similar Bill.

Washington, June 4.—The senate has passed the so called administration railroad bill, thus ending a contest between the progressives and Republican regulars which has run on more or less regularly for almost three months. Not a progressive voted against the bill, which went through by a division of 59 to 12. All who voted against the bill were Democrats, so that President Taft will have the satisfaction of reflecting that, notwithstanding all the dust and smoke that has been kicked up in the long senate fight, the bill has finally emerged a real party measure.

The bill will now go to conference, the house having already acted on a similar measure. To gain a parliamentary advantage the senate, after it had passed the bill, took the house bill from the table, struck out all after the enacting clause and substituted its own bill as an amendment. This will permit the house to disagree without delay and ask for a conference.

The long fight over the railroad bill in the senate ended with both progressives and regulars in good humor. The progressives, in explaining their rush toward the band wagon, declared that the bill contained many good features and that they alone were entitled to the credit for it.

Senator La Follette, after having occupied the attention of the senate for a large part of the day with a dozen or so amendments, sang a swan song. The bill was not just as he would like to see it, but it was a step in the right direction and the country, as he viewed the situation, could thank the progressives and Democrats for the merit of it.

Senator Dooliver, who had been pestering Senator Elkins for weeks, rose and said such nice things about him that the West Virginia senator got to his feet and, with arms across his chest, bowed in acknowledgment. "His kindness, his forbearance, his patience, his good will toward all, his willingness that every man should be heard," were a few of the bouquets the Iowa progressive handed to the chairman of the committee on interstate commerce.

Democrats Voted for the Bill.

The Democrats who voted for the bill were Chamberlain of Oregon, Clay of Georgia, Gore of Oklahoma, Paynter of Kentucky, Simmons of North Carolina and Stone of Missouri.

The bill as it passed the senate contains only three or four propositions in the same form as they appeared in the administration's original bill. The commerce court feature is retained, with slight modifications, and so also are the propositions authorizing shippers to select their own routes, the provision imposing penalties for incorrect statements of rates by railroad companies, and that authorizing the commission to begin investigation upon its own initiative and to control classifications. These are practically the only elements of the original bill left.

To these have been added, chiefly through progressive and Democratic votes, a long and short haul amendment, an anti-injunction amendment, a provision giving the interstate commerce commission power to suspend increases in rates for eleven months, a provision allowing the interstate commerce commission to become a party to litigation in regard to its orders before the new commerce court amendment shifting the burdens of proof in regard to the reasonableness of increases in rates from the shipper to the railroad itself, an amendment including telephones and telegraph companies as common carriers under the interstate commerce law, and several other amendments of minor importance.

In addition, the progressives, acting in concert with the Democrats, forced out of the administration bill the section legalizing traffic agreements and the four sections providing for government investigation of stock and bond issues by railroads. While the progressives lay claim to most of the credit, the senate regulars are far from conceding this. The fact remains, however, that the bill comes out of the senate lacking several of the most important features that it contained when it entered and having appended to it many features that were not contained in the original draft of the bill.

GEORGE W. PERKINS.

Arranges Conference Between Railroad Men and Shippers.

CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD

Perkins Arranges One Between Railroad Officials and Shippers.

Chicago, June 4.—After two days of effort in Chicago, George W. Perkins of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. of New York, who, it is said, was sent here to smooth over the trouble between the railroads and the shippers, left for the East, having induced the shippers to meet Western railroad presidents in a conference next Tuesday.

Mr. Perkins attempted to impress upon the railroad presidents the fact that it did no good to talk panic and insisted that they must confer with the shippers and try to smooth out their differences amicably.

Upon the manufacturers Mr. Perkins attempted to impress the fact that the railroads were being pushed too far and that the financial situation was exceedingly grave on account of the attitude the government is taking towards the railroads.

HAVEMEYER BLAMED FOR SUGAR FRAUDS

Responsibility Placed on Head of Dead Trust Chief.

New York, June 4.—Testimony which led direct to the grave of Henry O. Havemeyer, late head of the American Sugar Refining company, was given on the witness stand by Charles R. Heike, secretary of the company, who is charged with conspiring to defraud the government on underweight of sugar. Heike's defense opened and his counsel tried to shift all responsibility for the conduct of the company's affairs upon its late president. Hitherto in the defense of Ernest W. Gerbracht, superintendent of the company's Williamsburg (Brooklyn) refinery, and James B. Dernagel, former cashier, also on trial, only hints were made in Havemeyer's direction. But Heike's story put the responsibility directly up to his dead chief.

George S. Graham, who made his opening address for Heike, said he regretted bringing discredit to a man now dead, but circumstances of the case demanded it. Heike, he said, was at a period in life when a prison sentence, even if short, would mean a life term. Therefore he felt justified in violating the old quotation, "de mortuis nil nisi bonum."

On taking the stand Heike immediately put responsibility for practically all his acts up to Havemeyer, saying the latter had been in direct control of the Williamsburg refinery. Repeatedly in explaining his business dealing he said he had acted "at the direction of Mr. Havemeyer."

CASE IS A MYSTERIOUS ONE

Stranger Who Died at La Crosse Thought He Was in New York.

La Crosse, Wis., June 4.—Standing on a street corner in this city, waiting for a street car to take him to New York city, John Malloy, a stranger, was picked up by the police and shortly afterward taken violently ill. He was hurried to a hospital, where he died. He told the police shortly before his death that his home was in New York; that he believed he was still in that city, and had no recollection of coming West. He was about thirty-nine years old. The police are communicating with the authorities of New York city in an effort to locate his relatives.

Sheepman Declares Winter Did Not Affect Animals.

Belle Fourche, S. D., June 3.—W. H. Ridgway, a sheepman just in from the Camp Crook country north of here, states that this year's lamb crop will be about normal, despite the heavy reported losses among sheepmen of that section. It was feared that the rigor of the winter had caused the ewes to lose their lambs, but this has proved not true in most cases. The wool clip is in progress and a good crop is expected.

CHOSEN GRAND COUNSELOR

Ellis of Minneapolis Head of Commercial Travelers.

Stillwater, Minn., June 4.—Resolutions which will result in the presentation of a bill for the regulation of hotel accommodations in the smaller cities of the middle continental jurisdiction, to be presented to the next legislature of Minnesota, and the legislative bodies of the three Canadian provinces, and resolutions calling upon the members of the council to present to the executive committee of the grand council specific complaints regarding railroad accommodations, were passed at the last business session of the U. C. T. convention of the middle continental division here. These, with the determination of the convention to establish a home for superannuated commercial travelers and the appointment of a committee to investigate the project and present a complete plan for the home, were perhaps the most important of the great amount of business transacted. After an extended discussion of the claims of Red Wing and Fargo for the next convention, Fargo was chosen almost unanimously.

The annual election resulted in the choice of John F. Ellis of Minneapolis as grand counselor; W. B. Clarkson of Albert Lea, Minn., grand junior counselor; F. J. C. Cox of Winnipeg, chief counselor; J. M. Dresser of St. Paul, grand secretary; L. L. Culbertson of Duluth, treasurer; W. W. Fegan of Grand Forks, N. D., conductor; B. M. Hirschman of St. Paul, grand page; O. H. Criswell of Winona, Minn., grand sentinel; H. W. White of Calgary and G. E. Tisdale of Minneapolis, members of the executive committee for two years. A. Schaefer of Owatonna and Hayward Marshall of Sioux Falls are the members of the executive committee who hold over from the last election.

Mrs. Doxey Not Guilty.

St. Louis, June 4.—In the Doxey case the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. Mrs. Doxey wept hysterically as her acquittal was announced. Mrs. Doxey was placed on trial May 23, after having been confined in the city jail since Dec. 1, when she was brought from Columbus, Neb., where she had been arrested on the warrant charging her with the murder of Eder.

Girl Burned to Death.

Viborg, S. D., June 3.—Bertha Anderson, fifteen-year-old daughter of Martin C. Anderson, west of town, was fatally burned by her clothing catching fire from a cook stove. She lived only six hours and suffered intense pain.

Minnesotans Want the Money Loaned to Counties.

FOR DEVELOPMENT OF STATE

Convention at Crookston Desires the Commonwealth to Assist in Bringing in Settlers and Keeping Them in the State After They Arrive—Reapportionment the First Thing Requested.

Crookston, Minn., June 4.—Before adjourning the Northern Minnesota Development association adopted a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of five to wait upon the state investment board and urge upon them that they sell the bonds of other states now owned by the Minnesota school fund and loan the money thus secured to the counties in this state for the purpose of making ditches and other improvements.

The motion for the appointment of this committee was made by William J. Brown of Warren, county attorney of Marshall county. Resolutions asking that these bonds be sold were passed by the Bemidji convention last winter and since then, Brown said, the members of the investment board have made various statements, one saying that they already had all the money that Minnesota counties wanted to borrow and others saying that the loaning to the counties was not a good investment. But only recently Marshall county asked for a loan of about $170,000 for ditching purposes and could not get it because there was no money in the fund. They must go into the open market and pay 5 per cent, while the state is only getting 3 or 3½ per cent on the state bonds it owns. The motion passed unanimously.

Reapportionment Desired.

The first thing those who attended the meeting want, though perhaps not the most important, is reapportionment. There is no division of opinion on that question. Next they want the state to help them bring and keep settlers here. There may be some difference of opinion as to what is necessary in order to get settlers, but opinion as expressed by the resolutions and the applause for some points made by the speakers is fairly unanimous on some things that are wanted to help bring settlers here, find for them the kind of land they want and make the country liveable so they will not leave for Canada.

As a business proposition they agree the state should aid in the construction of roads and schools in the timbered districts, at least in proportion to the amount of land the state owns. This, they say, would be only justice to the settlers and would be a paying investment for the state. Then the state should spend more money to advertise its lands and should be prepared with a soil survey and description showing the character of every quarter section of land in the state, both public and private, so that the immigrant can be sent to the kind of land he wants and not on a wild goose chase.

Then sales of state lands should be held at frequent intervals or they should be on sale all the time, for when land sales are held only once a year it is impossible to accommodate all who might want to buy land, but cannot come when the state sales are held.

This section also wants more agricultural education. Sentiment is not so definitely crystallized on the manner in which this should be provided, but the applause given to Professor Hays and others who advocated the consolidated rural schools shows that this idea is favorably received.

President Maxfield appointed the following committee to wait on the state board of investment: W. F. Mackenzie of Bemidji, W. J. Brown of Warren, C. R. Middleton of Beaudette, R. C. Dunn of Princeton and L. B. Arnold of Duluth.

The convention adjourned to meet at Brainerd next December.

GOVERNOR EBERHARDT IN CITY
Arrived Today From St. Paul and Went North to Attend Meeting at Walker

Governor Eberhardt kindly favored the Dispatch representative with an interview as he stopped in Brainerd on his way to Walker. He stated he was glad to see that Brainerd had the next convention of the Northern Minnesota Development Association and that this association was a great agency for the promotion of the best interests of the northern part of the state.

He hoped that the Brainerd Commercial club as well as other bodies of the same nature, would do all they could to promote intensive farming. Small farms, well tilled, tended to make a community prosperous. Commercial clubs should make it a point to have progressive farmers attend their meetings and with them discuss the proper development of the resources of a county.

"The mining industry," said the governor, "is one of growing importance in this state but the agricultural resources of any district should not be lost sight of, for it is in agriculture principally that the wealth of Minnesota lies."

Regarding reapportionment he stated the people of the southern counties recognized the justice of the movement, except probably some legislators, who objected as a matter of self preservation. There was not as much feeling against reapportionment as many supposed.

"Securing the convention of the Northern Minnesota Development Association for Brainerd means much publicity for your city and especially for this part of the state. I think I shall be able to attend the sessions in your city," said the governor.

Governor Eberhardt left on the afternoon train for Walker, where he will attend the editorial convention at Walker.

through Brainerd to St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The Modern Woodmen of America will hold memorial services at the First Presbyterian church at half past two on Sunday afternoon. Rev. W. J. Lowrie will deliver an address on "Making Provisions for the Future."

There will be a dance given by Victoria Lodge, No. 24, June 7th, 1910. Tickets 25c to the public. 213

The Rev. Charles Fox Davis will preach on "The Angels and Men we Meet on the Dusty Pathways of Life," at the morning service. At the evening service the subject will be, "The Crowd at the Pool of Bethesda." Services at 10:30 and at eight.

Mrs. S. R. Taylor, of Grand Junction, Col., and Mrs. Sarah Marean, of Adair, Iowa, arrived today and will visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Swartz. Mrs. Marean is a sister of M. K. Swartz and her visit is quite an event, for she has not seen her brother for over 30 years.

DELEGATION RETURNS FROM CROOKSTON

Enthusiastic About Landing Convention—Grateful to Management of M. & I.

MUCH PUBLICITY FOR BRAINERD

Brainerd Will Attract More Attention Next December Than Any City in State

GET TOGETHER AND BOOST FOR BRAINERD

The delegation from Brainerd to the Northern Minnesota Development Association meeting at Crookston returned this morning at 7 a. m. in their chartered car. The delegates feel very enthusiastic at their success in landing the next convention, which is in December, for their home town. They report having had not only a very pleasant but also a very instructive meeting. They are high in their praise for Crookston, for its enterprises, its beauty and its sanitary conditions.

Now that the convention is assured for Brainerd, it is the hope of these delegates that the citizens make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the purposes of the organization which they have upheld, and wake up to the fact that the biggest thing Brainerd ever had is being brought to them. They should learn to appreciate that the benefits which Brainerd will derive are not political but are decidedly commercial, and their appreciation can be shown by lending assistance whenever it is asked for.

The delegates feel especially grateful to the management of the M. & I. railway for their favors and splendid service given them in being transported to and from Crookston in a chartered car in a special train. Without this service a delegation would probably never have gone to Crookston and Brainerd would have lost the golden opportunity which has now been brought to its doors.

Concerning the convention a prominent delegate has prepared the following for the Dispatch:

The greatest publicity which has ever been given to our city of Brainerd, the Hub City of the state of Minnesota, in all the years of its existence will be given to it between December 8th, 1910, because it has been selected at the present Crookston convention as the next meeting place for the Northern Minnesota Development Association.

The first meeting of this organization was held in Bemidji last February when a great movement was started, and which was reared to maturity on June 1, 2 and 3 at Crookston, whereby thirty one northern counties of this great state of Minnesota became firmly bound in the greatest concerted movement known in its political history. These counties are and act as a unit in their endeavors to secure for themselves and their posterity that which is not rapid developments within their areas, and so vital to the industries of their mother state and country. Without a dissenting vote they have decided to demand of their representatives and senators in the state legislature a reapportionment of the state at the next session of the legislature to equalize the unjust representation under which they have been suffering, and they demand their unqualified promises to vote for the different resolutions adopted at the Crookston meeting.

Intellectual and interesting speeches and addresses abounded at the Crookston meeting. Men who make a study of agricultural problems, good road construction, drainage of swamp lands, state finances, and all allied subjects, all fully prepared for the occasion, addressed the convention and the abundant carefully compiled statistics given by these experts could not fail to impress the audiences with their significance and their direct bearing on the conditions in the midst of which we try to prosper, but not without restrictions and whose removal we are fighting for.

The convention was ideal, if not unique, in respect to the existing enthusiasm, concerted action and unanimity of purpose. Those attending came from all over the northern part of the state and as far south as Isanti, Mille Lac, Stearns, and Douglas counties, and mention must indeed be made of that strong delegation from St. Paul and Minneapolis which travelled to the convention, accompanied by the State band, in a special train. No one alive to the topics of the day can fail to appreciate the significance and importance of the objects which this organization is trying to and no doubt will achieve.

The Brainerd delegation arrived at Crookston early Thursday morning and immediately began to swamp the headquarters of the convention, and the town itself, with bids for the December convention, and before the day was over, it was quite generally conceded that all serious opposition had been overcome. At the business meeting the following day, it was unanimously decided to select Brainerd, and herewith Brainerd and Crow Wing county began to make it known that they feel deeply grateful to all their friends for the support given them.

With its central location, Brainerd is ideal for the December convention. This city is central to all parts of the state and has railroads leading to it from all directions, and its accommodations are first rate. But above all, Brainerd is close to the hostile forces of the new organization and that makes it a fit place at which to oppose these forces and combat against them on principles of right and wrong. It is the earnest wish that every one will come to Brainerd, there to rally around the flag again or else show the cause why not.

A word is due to the beautiful city of Crookston. The hospitality displayed by the citizens, and their services and accommodations will long be remembered. Crookston is a fit place for conventions, and all the delegates left the city with the best wishes for the success and progress of that enterprising community which well deserves the name of the "Queen City" of the state.

They Landed the Convention

A word of thanks is due the delegates, and those who assisted financially for attending the Northern Minnesota Development Association meeting and bringing the convention to Brainerd next December.

The list embraces A. G. Trommald, W. H. Gemmell, Carl Zapffe, C. A. Allbright, G. S. Swanson, Louis Knudsen, J. H. Krekelberg, F. A. Farrar, Con O'Brien, J. M. Elder, N. H. Ingersoll, A. M. Opsahl, C. D. Johnson, George A. Keene, Fred W. Gruenhagen, Howard Paine, H. F. Michael, R. R. Wise, and W. A. M. Johnston.

What Daily Press Says

Under date line of Crookston, June 3rd, all the morning papers give considerable space and mention to Brainerd.

Under the subhead "To Brainerd in September," the Minneapolis Journal states:

"Brainerd was chosen without opposition as the place of the next meeting in December. S. J. Boyle of Eveleth put Brainerd in nomination and Albert Berg of Spooner seconded. "C. D. Johnson of Brainerd, made a hit with his invitation speech. He said Brainerd was an ideal location, central and located by nature "high and dry" on the Mississippi.

"We have not been troubled by drainage or county option," he said, "so you will not need to worry about overflow and can use your own judgment as to the inflow."

Under a subhead "Meet in Brainerd in September," the St. Paul Dispatch states:

"The congress at noon today voted to hold the next convention at Brainerd in December. The name of no other town was presented and the vote for Brainerd was unanimous. The convention will be held in December, so that the resolutions then adopted may be fresh in the minds of the lawmakers. When President Mayfield announced that the place of the next convention would be fixed, James Boyle of Duluth, made the motion that it be held in Brainerd, saying that the city was centrally located. Albert Berg, of Spooner, seconded the motion, and C. D. Johnson of Brainerd extended the invitation to the congress in behalf of his city."

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

The Keynote of the Addresses on the Program is "Civic Responsibility"

EXERCISES ARE ON JUNE 7th

Rev. Father O'Mahoney Will Preach the Baccalaureate Sermon Sunday Afternoon

The commencement exercises of the Brainerd high school will be held at the opera house on Tuesday evening, June 7th, at eight o'clock.

The class of 1910 numbers 27 graduates and is one of the largest classes graduated in recent years from the high school.

The commencement program presented by the class of 1910 has as its general theme the keynote of "civic responsibility." Every address presents some phase of the duties of an American citizen of improvements in municipal life, and shows that our class of 1910 has chosen a most practical and beautiful theme. The problems of our complex municipal life require as proper a solution and rank as high as those of the home and the nation. Good citizenship is the foundation of this and any nation which is a government of the people, for the people and by the people.

The program is as follows: Invocation.....Rev. Chas. Fox Davis "Estudiantina".....Lacome-Page Girls' Glee Club.

Much Needed.

"There's one thing we need in this country, and nobody seems to be doing anything to furnish us with it—one thing that we need more and more as time goes on. I wish I could invent or devise it. There will be a fortune in it when it is perfected."

"What is it?"

"Some kind of a device whereby people may be able to tell just how much to applaud when they want to make the entertainer feel good without causing him or her, as the case may be, to mistake the demonstration for an encore."—Chicago Record-Herald.

REMARKS ENTIRELY CASUAL

President Taft Provoked at Construction Placed Upon Them.

Detroit, June 4.—President Taft was half amused and half angry when he learned that a reference to business conditions in his speech before the students of the Ohio Northwestern university at Ada had been made the excuse for rumors in Wall street of a panic to come some time in the next ten years.

Mr. Taft was telling the young graduates before him what they might expect in life as to business pursuits and the various professions. To those who proposed to go into business he merely gave voice to the cautionary advice that conditions of prosperity must not be expected always. The president regarded his remarks as entirely casual, and that they have been made into a prediction of panic based on any prevailing condition provoked him greatly.

The way of the transgressor is hard, of course—it is so thoroughly and persistently traveled.—Puck.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The pupils of the chemistry class have completed their laboratory work for the year.

A meeting of the senior class was held Wednesday night after school in Mr. Carter's room. Mr. Cobb reported on the receipts and expenditures of the senior class play. The class has about one hundred and fifteen dollars to its credit but it was not decided for what purpose it was to be used. By a motion of Mr. Cobb, Mr. Roland Barron and Miss McCoy, were authorized to call a meeting in the near future for the purpose of determining what use was to be made of the money. It is probable that the money will be used for the purchase of a memorial.

Kenneth Ribbel was recently transferred to his old home in the high school room.

The Brainerd high school baseball team is practicing faithfully every night after school.

The chemistry class recently had as a topic, "The Chemistry of the Household." Anyone wishing for information on this subject will kindly apply to Miss D. E. Lyddon, who will answer each and every question.

Notice on board in main room—"Reward for Dooge's Cicero. Please Hunt. Anyone finding this book wandering around will kindly return to Miss Mahlum's room."

Won't somebody please block those long freight trains between the hours of 8:30 and 9:00 so that the pupils will be able to arrive in time for school.

Mr. Roland Barron, on hearing the school bell ring at about nine o'clock Thursday night immediately started from East Brainerd thinking that the school building was on fire. He arrived breathless only to find it the work of some mischievous boys. Hard luck Rollie, we wish you better luck next time.

We are well pleased with the attention the people of the city have paid to our various articles on the high school gymnasium which have been published in these notes from time to time. It seems that this subject was one on which the people needed awakening and we are pleased to note the progress already made in this direction. There is nothing which will benefit the pupils more and there is no other thing which can be secured at so small a cost.

England has made a conciliation with Ireland according to indications in the main room. At least a dark haired English girl has given up her national colors for the wearing of the green.

Teacher—"Mix salt and water and what is the reaction?" J. G.—"Salt-water."

A senior class meeting was held Friday evening in Mr. Carter's room. The committee on the class reported that they had chosen "They Work Who Win," as the motto. This was accepted by the class. The committee on the class yell was not prepared to report. The class then took up the question of where the baccalaureate sermon was to be delivered. The Catholic church was chosen with Rev. O'Mahoney delivering the sermon. The class then decided to hold its class picnic at Deerwood but the date was not decided. The meeting then adjourned.

Whenever any of the baseball players are asked what the score was at Little Falls they became regular Sphinxes. Peculiar isn't it?

This will be the last edition of the High School Notes for the present year. We hope that the senior class of next year will continue their publication and make them even better than they were this year.

Alex Ruttger was out of school this week with the measles.

Eighty-five different flowers have bloomed in the vicinity of Brainerd this spring according to the Botany class. We wonder how many people realize how much can be found in nature right here at home. Of the specimens found there are twelve in the buttercup family, fourteen in the rose family, nine related to the blueberry and eight different kinds of violets.

The Gamma Delta Sigma held their last meeting for this year, Wednesday evening. Owing to the fact that the literary club was not organized until late in the year, also that the meetings were interfered with by preparations for the play, the girls have not been heard from as much as they would otherwise have been. However, the organization is a live one and will be ready to go to work in earnest with the opening of next year. At the last meeting the following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—Mae Staples.
Vice President—Bessie Paine.
Secretary—Mabel Smythe.

The May morning breakfast that the club intended to give the first Saturday morning in May had to be postponed because of the weather. It will be held Monday morning, June 6th.

A Woman's Great Idea is how to make herself attractive. But, without health, it is hard for her to be lovely in face, form or temper. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys; purify the blood; give strong, nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, satiny skin, lovely complexion. Try them. 50c at all druggists. tsw by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

NATURES WARNING

Brainerd People Must Recognize and Heed it

Kidney ills come quietly—mysteriously. But nature always warns you. Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy. If there are settlements and sediment. Passages frequent, scanty, painful. It's time then to use Doan's Kidney Pills. To ward off Bright's disease or diabetes.

Doan's have done great work in Brainerd. Mrs. Emma Ekholm, 1391 E. Oak St., S. E., Brainerd, Minn., says: "I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. My daughter suffered terribly from backache and other symptoms of kidney complaint for years. The use of a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from a local drug store, have proven of great benefit in her case. Her confidence in this remedy in unlimited and she intends to continue its use until every symptom of kidney trouble has been driven from her system."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
